

An illustration of a soldier in a tropical setting. The soldier in the foreground is wearing a wide-brimmed hat, a khaki uniform, and tall brown boots. He is holding a rifle slung over his shoulder and a vintage camera. In the background, other soldiers in similar uniforms are gathered on a beach, some looking at a map. Several bodies lie on the sand, suggesting a scene of conflict or aftermath. The sea and a large ship are visible in the distance under a cloudy sky. A palm frond hangs from the top left corner.
